THE GORGAS

MINING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY,

On Deep River, Chatham Co., N. C.

OFFER FOR SALE

AT AUCTION!

Their entire Manufacturing Establishment, Including Grist Mill, &c., &c.

The Gorgas Mining and Manufacturing Company will sell at public auction, on the premises, the 27th. instant, their valuable

IRON WORKS

AND

MILL,

Situated on Deep River, 30 miles west of Raleigh, and 6 miles of Pittsboro', the county seat of Chatham county. The Mill is now in operation, grinding Wheat and Corn.

The Water Power is unsurpassed, being capable of the application of 300 horse power, if necessary.

The Machinery embraces every variety used in first-class Machine Shops, such as Planers, Lathes, Milling Machines, Trip and Drop Hammers, Rip Saws, &c., &c., complete for making Railroad Cars, or can be easily converted into a first-class Agricultural Manufactory.

There are 27 Cabins and large Stables on the premises, and ample accommodations for laborers and teams.

The Factory is situated in the midst of Coal and Iron fields, immediately on the river, which affords transportation at trifling cost.

Inexhaustible Copper Mines, of superior quality, are within 1½ miles of the shop, and it may be added that the country adjacent abounds in magnificent forest of Pine and Oak.

At the same time, will be sold—

30 Tons of Pig Iron,

In addition to Steamboat Navigation from Wilmington to the Factory door, a Railroad is now in process of construction from Raleigh to the Gorgas Company's Factory.

Our Agent, on the premises, will show the property to any one wishing to examine it.

Letters of enquiry may be addressed to Col. J. M. HECK, Warrenton, N. C., or to P. T. NORWOOD, Petersburg, Va.

25 SYCAMORE STREET.

"The First of the Season."

LARGE

Opening of New Fall Goods,

With an extensive assortment of CARPETS, RUGS, DRUGGETTS AND GENERAL HOUSE-KEEPING GOODS, and an entirely new stock of the handsomest DRESS GOODS the market affords.

Ladies will find this the best opportunity to procure choice new styles of FALL DRESS GOODS, which I am now opening in great variety, such as splendid Eugenia and Empress Cloths, Crepes, Merinos, Goldanelia, richly embroidered—an entirely new things, rich, brilliant silk stripes on chene grounds: "Transconia A'Soie, effective Careaux, with rich Broches," "Lornetto, effective Satin Carreatux," on lasting finish grounds, very costly; "Rich Valentia, in plain chene," all new and desirable shades, prime qualities and beautiful designs, with rich Broches.

A magnificent assortment of

SQUARE & LONG SHAWLS

in all their new styles and combinations, at prices that will not fail to please. I would call special attention to my stock of the largest in Va., or North Carolina, embracing 20,000 yards, all bought at auction, and will be sold at prices far below any similar quality ever offered in this market. I have also just received over 10,000 yards of PANTALOON GOODS, in every variety of finish and quality, varying in price from 30c, to $3. This stock is the largest and most complete of the kind that I have ever offered, and will be constantly replenished during the season as the demand requires.

GENUINE IRISH LINENS,

At a future day I will enumerate the different lines of Goods I usually keep. Suffice it to say, at present, that everything kept in any first-class Dry-Goods House can be found here, in every variety, at the lowest prices.

I would say to those in want of

that the greatest care has been taken in the selection of the best colors and finest fabrics, and they have but to be seen to be appreciated, so that those in want had better

ELSEWHERE.

I would also call the attention of the public to the celebrated Florence Lock Stitch Sewing Machine.

This Machine, being but recently introduced, is already gaining for itself a host of friends, as our daily sales testify. Its simplicity and recommend it to all. It possesses all the best qualities of the good standard Machines, with several important improvements, more fully explained in the "Circulars," which I send free by mail to any address on application.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.

The Committee are fully authorized to sell, and would say that a rare chance is offered to any party wishing to purchase such property, as time sufficient, if required, will be given. Possession given immediately.

Any person or party wishing to examine the property will be shown it by, E. E Parham, the present occupant, or by any one or more of the Committee.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in SIMPSON'S INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS, the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at Wm. Simpson's Confectionary Store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once no housekeeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 18, 1866.

FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, AS IT IS, AND THE UNION AS IT WAS.
NO FURTHER AMENDMENTS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
JONATHAN WORTH,
OF RANDOLPH.

THE SENTINEL.
Clubs! Clubs!! Clubs!!!

The coming events of the next six or twelve months will have an intense interest to every American citizen. North Carolians have a great stake in the political developments of the country during that period.

The Sentinel will continue to stand by the Constitution as it is, and by the Union of the States, ever advocating principles which lie at the foundation of the Constitution and the Federal government.

It shall continue to be a correct and truthful newspaper, carefully compiling what can be interesting or of utility to the people of North Carolina.

The price of single subscriptions to the Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly Sentinel will remain as heretofore, but, in order to extend our circulation, we will hereafter send it to clubs of subscribers at the following rates:

Daily, for three months to clubs of four subs,	$8.00
" for six months to clubs of four sub,	16.00
Semi-Weekly, for three months to clubs of four sub,	4.00
Semi-Weekly, for six months to clubs of four sub,	8.00
Weekly, for three months, to clubs of four sub,	2.00
Weekly, for six months, to clubs of four sub,	4.00

By this arrangement the Daily for six months will cost each member of a club, of four or more subscribers, only $4 each, the Semi-weekly, will cost each member of a club, of four or more subscribers for six months only $2 each; and the weekly will cost each member of a club of four or more subscribers, for six months, only $1 each, and half that price for three months. Subscriptions at club rates will not be taken for a longer term than six months. The cash must always accompany the order.

Retrenchment.

The Charlotte Democrat thinks we do not practice what we preach. We urge economy and retrenchment both in public and private matters, but our neighbor says, because we favored the appointment of an Adjutant General and the donation of $7,000 to the University, we do not practice what we preach. There is a slight difference of opinion between us and our cotemporary. As a practical economist our neighbor is perhaps superior to us. But what would be economy in an individual is not always economy in a State. The Constitution and the laws require the organization of the Militia.—The Legislature left the law requiring the appointment of an Adjutant General on the statute book. So it did with the State Geologist. Gov. Worth had sworn to execute the law; hence he had no option left him. He was obliged to fill the offices, as the Legislature had left them unfilled, or be derelict in duty. We think it was good economy and right and necessary to reorganize the Militia, and hence the necessity of an Adjutant General. The salary of that officer is only $200, we believe.

Moreover, the idea that we are to have the functions of a State government restored without an organized Militia, is simply ridiculous, and we are surprised that our cotemporary should not see that necessity. That officer has duties imposed on him now, which he cannot discharge for less than $1,500 for the present year. There are 6,000 commissions to issue, besides a full roster and other books to be kept, and a large amount of correspondence. The sum of $200 for such labor is pitiful and derogatory to the State. And the re-organization of the Militia is a constitutional duty, a legal necessity, and, in fact, a most economical and prudent outlay of money.

The office of State Geologist is equally necessary and is a great public economy. The State never did a better or a more economical thing than the employment of a State Geologist. The labors of Dr. Emmons were for years almost entirely devoted to the development of the marl beds and swamp land interest in the East, and the coal, iron, copper and other mining interest of the Middle Counties. The immense stores of mineral wealth in our Western Counties had hardly been touched. Gov. Worth therefore dispatched the State Geologist, as soon as he could get ready, to explore the Western Counties, where he is now actively employed. Every day almost there are calls upon the Executive from Northern, and Foreign capitalists, perhaps, to ascertain geological facts in reference to this State, her mining and manufacturing resources with a view to purchasing and establishing mines, factories, &c. Who can furnish satisfactory answers to these enquiries but a learned and competent Geologist? What can develope and bring to the notice of the world so ready and full an exhibition of the resources of the State, as a geological report from a responsible and intelligent Geologist? As a matter of shrewd financiering and economy, we contend the employment of a State Geologist is necessary.—We believe that the positive damage to the State by the war will be sooner rectified by letting the world know what North Carolina is and what her resources are. We are for economy, for retrenchment, but not for "the penny wise, pound foolish policy," which has characterized North Carolina the greater part of her history.

Again, the Constitution requires the Legislature to establish and foster the University and Common Schools. The Common School fund had been rendered almost entirely unproductive by the misfortunes of the war. Its actual income, so far as human foresight could determine, could not reach $30,000 per annum for years to come. To do almost anything for the Public Schools in each County, would require $100,000 per annum. To make them as efficient as before the war would require $250,000.—Hence, the Legislature, as it saw it could do nothing efficiently, concluded that as the expense of doing anything would be equal to the expense of working efficiently, it was most prudent to attempt to do nothing, as all believed that our people were too poor, and were already too heavily taxed, to add to their already heavy burden the School tax. We apprehend, and we claim, that the members of the last Legislature were as devoted friends of the Public Schools as any other citizens of the State, but on all sides, which way they turned, they found insuperable difficulties in keeping up the Schools. If we had been in the Legislature, so deep was our interest for the Public Schools, we should probably have ventured to risk some plan for their preservation, yet we are not disposed to blame that body for not attempting to do what they believed impossible.

As to the University, the obligation upon the Legislature was just as imperious to keep it in operation as in the case of the Public Schools.—They knew that it was impossible for the Treasury or the people to keep the Public Schools alive, so that the benefit derived would equal the outlay. It was still more difficult to keep both alive. The appropriation of only $7000 would keep the University alive; to withhold that small sum would close its doors, and the State would thus abandon altogether her educational system. The only part of that system which could be kept alive with our present means was the University. Will any man say, that it was bad economy or bad policy to pay $7000 to keep that alive, and because both could not be preserved, that, therefore, both ought to die? We think not. If there are such, we differ with them. Our neighbor is mistaken in supposing that the Legislature appropriated $7000 for four years successively for the University. The appropriation was only for one year.

The President and His Return.

We publish, in another column, a brief account of the President's reception on his return to the seat of government, and an abstract of his remarks upon the occasion. The confident manner in which he declares his conviction that his patriotic policy is endorsed by a large majority of the millions whom he has seen and mingled with, during his tour, is calculated to inspire fresh hope that he will yet prevail, under the blessing of Providence, over the enemies of the Constitution and the Union. Let the timid and the despondent take courage from the bold and sanguine spirit of the President. Few men have ever lived who understand better than he the indications of public sentiment. They have been his life-long study, and he has rarely erred in his prognostications concerning them. To this accurate insight which he possesses into the throbbings of the popular heart, may be attributed the fact that he has never been defeated before the people.

With three disgraceful exceptions, the President's tour was one continued and enthusiastic ovation. The people flocked to see him by tens of thousands, and no conqueror, returning from victorious fields of glory, was ever greeted with such irrepressible demonstrations of popular regard and affection. The insults to which he was occasionally subjected, culminating in riot and bloodshed at Indianapolis, were deliberately concocted beforehand by turbulent Radical politicians, who sought, by such means, to prevent the exhibition of the people's confidence in the President, and prove nothing but that these men will scruple at no means, however revolutionary and even sanguinary, to accomplish their nefarious designs against Peace and Union.

Whatever doubts may exist as to the President's condescending to notice the insults which were offered him, there can be no question but that the sober second thought of the whole country will be shocked at such shameful indignities to the Chief Magistrate of the nation.

The President grandly announces his determination to persevere in the policy which he has heretofore pursued. Shall we desert him now? NEVER,—NEVER! Such conduct would be an ingratitude base beyond expression.

"If the land owners of North Carolina refuse to dispose of their lands, they will act, we think, to their own personal injury, as well as to the detriment of the State at large. The sale of a tract of one or two thousand acres in alternate sections of fifty or one hundred acres would greatly enhance the value of the sections retained. Indeed, to refuse to do so would be suicidal in the present crippled condition of the State. We are confident that such a policy will retard the growth of that or any other Southern State; and we trust that this subject will enlist the examination of her enlightened citizens, and result in the advocacy of the policy of small farms, and the encouragement of a thrifty population to settle and enter upon the improved cultivation of her productive lands, which we regard as essential to Southern prosperity."—Norfolk Day Book.

There is both truth and good sense in the foregoing extract. According to the Census of 1860, there were in this State 2,050 farms of three and under ten acres; between 10 and 20 acres 4,879; between 20 and 50, 20,882; between 40 and 100, 18,496; between 100 and 500, 10,220; between 500 and 1,000, 1,184; of 1000 acres and over, 311. It will thus be perceived, at a glance, how impossible it will be under the altered condition of labor, to bestow the usual culture upon most of these farms,—large and cumbrous as the statistics demonstrate so great a proportion of them to be.

The only certain and sure road to recuperation and future prosperity lies in inducing the influx of skilled, intelligent, worthy, mind-your-own-business labor to our midst, and the sub-division of large estates into innumerable smaller homesteads, within the ability of men of moderate means to purchase, stock and cultivate.

In the immense State of New York there are but about two hundred farms of as many as 500 acres; in the great State of Pennsylvania but sixty-one, and in the new and flourishing State of Minnesota there are but two. The facts taken in connection with the statistical exhibit of the vast agricultural resources of those States, furnish the most impressive commentary upon our text.

For the Sentinel.

The Rev. Frederick Fitzgerald.

To the Editor of the Church Intelligencer:

DEAR SIR:—I have read with great pleasure your just and appreciative tribute to the memory of our late brother, Frederick Fitzgerald.—I am happy to have it in my power to correct one misstatement made in the papers from which we obtained the first intelligence of his death. He did not "die in the street." Thank God, he died in his bed; amid the ministrations of devoted love; and with the words and prayers of Holy Church sounding in his ears. His death was sudden, and hastened by the constitutional disease of his heart. But he was ill in his own house for two days; and, thus, some space was afforded both to himself and to those to whom he was most dear, to realize that their earthly happiness might be drawing to its close, and to look upward to a world where sorrow and death are unknown.

The opinion you express of his being prepared for a sudden summons, is one in which those who knew him best will most heartily coincide. He was one of the purest men I ever saw. In an unreserved intimacy of many years, I never knew him to utter a sentiment, or an allusion, or even a word, at which the most scrupulous modesty could take offence. He was a man of remarkable refinement of feeling, appearance, and manner. He also possessed great tenderness of disposition. I have seen him weep over the grievous calamity of a friend, as if it was his own. This trait was delightfully seen in his affectionate assiduities to his little children. It was also an important element of his acceptableness as a Parish Minister, and an army Chaplain, imparting an irresistible charm to his visitations to the sick and the afflicted. As Chaplain, he preached three times every Sunday; spent the morning and evening of every week day in the hospitals, and at night wrote letters dictated by sick and wounded soldiers, to their friends. In many an humble home in this and other States, his handwriting will be cherished, and his name remembered in connection with such offices of love.

But though pure and tender as a woman, he was as far as possible from wanting the energy and courage of a man. This he evinced in his life of strenuous toil, in the midst of many trials and privations, and, often, of much bodily pain and weakness. You speak of the Church at Goldsborough as a monument of his ability, industry, taste and zeal. I happen to know that almost every dollar of the eight or ten thousand which that Church cost, was collected by his individual efforts; that the whole building was erected under his personal supervision; that the materials and labor were procured and paid for by him; and that when the top stone was laid, the accounts were handed to the vestry with vouchers for all the expenditures. The Church buildings at Jackson and Murfreesboro' are also monuments of the efficiency of his ministry. They were erected under his auspices, and through his instrumentality. What honorable and enduring memorials they are of his brief career!

An illustration of the decision and manliness of his character occurs to me as I am writing. A stalwart man had been brought to the camp to be instructed in the duties of a soldier. For some offence he was condemned, while his companions were on parade, to "double-quick" over a certain space, for a certain time. Against this humiliation his free spirit rebelled, and seizing a weapon from one of those appointed to enforce the discipline, he brandished it in the air, threatening death to any one who should approach him. The moment was critical. The man must be disarmed, or he must be shot.—The comrades, in whose care he was, hesitated. Our friend was a breathless spectator of the scene. He asked permission of his Colonel to interfere. Taking silence for consent, he ran to the recreant, got within the guard of his weapon, seized him by the throat, and held him until, in a moment, he was disarmed and secured.

Mr. Fitzgerald went to the North immediately after the war, because here he had neither occupation nor revenue; there he was sure of a refuge and every comfort for his wife and children. He had no fixed purpose for himself.—He went like many a good man of old, and of the present time, not knowing whither he went or what he should do; but trusting in the God that careth for His children. His ministrations were received with much favor by those who heard him, and he was called to several desirable fields of labor in that portion of the vineyard. He accepted the invitation to Hoboken, New Jersey, a populous suburb of New York, directly opposite the city. There I saw him in June, the honored Rector of a large congregation, worshipping in a handsome Gothic Church of stone. He had just moved into the new and commodious Rectory, and as I looked at him, so recently a stranger, and almost an exile, now so pleasantly established with his wife and children, under his own roof, I could not but congratulate him as one whom God had highly favored.

A few days after, I met him in New York, with the irresistible Bishop of Tenn., who was urging upon him the acceptance of a call from Nashville. It was a call hard to refuse; for his heart was as true to the South as the needle to the pole, and was always turning in this direction. It was painful to him to disappoint the expectations of the Parish of which he had so recently assumed the charge, and from which he had received strong proofs of confidence and affection. The struggle in his mind was severe; but he decided to go. He was making his preparations to go, when it pleased our Father in Heaven that his services in the earthly sanctuary should cease. The accompanying resolutions will show the estimation in which our friend was held by those among whom he died, although their acquaintance with him was so short.

S.

At a meeting of the wardens and vestry of Trinity church, Hoboken, N. J., held on Friday evening, Aug. 31, 1866, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The sad and sudden bereavement with which it has pleased Almiugty God to afflict the congregation of Trinity church, by the removal from this life of their Rector, the Rev. Frederick Fitzgerald, calls from the wardens and vestry an expression of their profound sympathy and condolence with his widow and all who had the happiness of knowing him.

It was, therefore, unanimously

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy and condolence of the members and congregation of Trinity church be tendered to the esteemed widow of the Rev. Frederick Fitzgerald, in her deep sorrow, and their hope that she may be sustained by the same grace that so eminently distinguished her departed husband in all the troubles he has had to pass through.

Resolved, That, although their late rector had been so short a period officiating in this parish, his great devotion to his ministerial duties, his general and sick visitations, and his solicitude for the spiritual and temporal weltare of his flock, has so endeared him in the affections of his people, that they will ever think of his name with regard and esteem as a faithful pastor, a true churchman, and Christian gentleman.

Resolved, That Trinity church be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Mrs. Fitzgerald, and entered at large on the minutes.

Resolved, That the warden and vestry attend the funeral of our rector in a body.

AN ADAMS SPEAKS.

A Massachusetts Republican in Favor of Union.

A great ratification meeting of the National Union Convention at Philadelphia was held in Boston on the evening of the 11th. inst. The attendance was very large and the spirit highly enthusiastic.

The Hon. Jno. Q. Adams, son of the American Minister to the Court of St. James, made a speech of great power, abounding in the most national and statesman-like views, which was received with great applause. We make the following admirable extracts, and commend them to the attentive perusal of our readers and of all those of our people into whose hands this paper may fall:

"Now what is this issue that we must pass upon each for himself? It is simply this: The majority in Congress claim the right and exercise the power of excluding from all representation whatever the people of ten States of the Union until they establish to its satisfaction a proper 'practical relation' to the Union, whatever that may be; and the evidence of this relation is to be the passage of an amendment to the Constitution, dictated to them by a portion of the representatives of a part of the States of the Union. We insist, on the other hand, that the war was fought to compel the rebellious in the insurgent States to perform their duties to the Union, and that as soon as the insurrection was subdued, and peace and order restored, it was the constitutional duty no less than the right of those States to send representatives to Congress, and that in case the 'elections, returns, and qualifications' of such members are regular and correct, Congress has no right to exclude them from their seats. (Applause.) We further protest that the assumption by Congress of a power nowhere granted by the Constitution to establish an inquisitorial and revolutionary tribunal to examine, not the 'elections, returns, and qualifications' of any of its members, but to pry into the private feelings, talk, and condition of the people of the once insurgent communities, with a view to exclude States from Congress, is no better than usurpation. (Applause.) And averring as we do that these States were never out of the Union and could not be, we therefore insist upon the immediate admission of all the loyal Representatives and Senators duly elected and qualified to seats in Congress. This, at least, is the issue offered us to-day, and to tide over this election; but the Radicals who crack the loudest whips over Congress delight in proclaiming that the only real final issue is universal suffrage for the negro.—When that comes I hope to live to discuss it; but to night let me adhere to the proposition before us. Now if one could have had prophetic vision at any time during the war, how astonished he would have been to have seen through the smoke that great party which so resolutely fought out four years of dire warfare to put down the heresy that the Union was dissoluble, spending thousands of millions of gold, and hundreds of thousands of inestimably precious lives to maintain the doctrine of the supremacy of the Constitution in all its strictness, now struggling desperately to retard a restoration of the Union. One can hardly resist the superstition that the evil spirits of secession and disunion exorcised at the South by the point of the bayonet had fled to the Capitol, and entered into and possessed our rulers there. (Cheers.) Nor do I say this in any spirit of exaggeration, as you may realize if you will but recur for a moment to the outbreak of the war. The party in power at the South claimed and exercised a right to secede, because, they said, their rights were endangered by the acts which the majority who had just elected Mr. Lincoln would do as soon as he had fairly grasped the power of the government, and they demanded further constitutional guaranty of slavery in the territories as the condition of their remaining. It was in vain that the majority protested that it had no intent of impairing their constitutional rights; the Southern minority, dominant in their own section, persisted in their effort to take the slaveholding States out of the Union. Now look at Congress to-day, insisting, as it does, that its rights are in danger if these ten States are readmitted to Congress; it claims and exercises a right to hold out of the Union almost as many States as ever strove to go out, and it imposes the same condition of further constitutional guarantees as the price of a renewed, much as the secessionists did of a continued, Union. I confess, as a matter of constitutional law and common sense, apart from the intent of individuals, I see very little to choose between the man who takes a State out of the Union because he cannot get constitutional guarantees to suit him, and one who keeps a State out of the Union until he can get constitutional guarantees to suit him. In both cases we must look for the evil principle precisely where the political theorist would have indicated beforehand, in the inherent weakness of written constitutions, when the fears or ambition of a dwindling majority tempt them to to overstep the limits of the organic law to avert their own humiliation, and the advent to power of a rival party which, of course, appears to the still dominant faction an insufferable calamity. Now, my friends, this is the real danger which Congress would avert from us. It is absurd to suppose that the bold and able men who have wielded the whole power of the North for years are much alarmed at the return of a beaten and broken remnant whose power has passed away whose prestige is gone, and whose burden is about as much as they can well bear, to mingle in the deliberations of Congress. No: the organs of Congress make no secret that their real apprehension is not the South, but the North—no longer the men whom they persist in treating as alien enemies, but their loyal fellow-citizens of the Democratic party. It is to secure their dear people from the unutterable woes of Democratic rule, and to perpetuate the inestimable blessings of their own administration, that they are willing to postpone indefinitely a true restoration of the Union. This extract from a Boston paper sufficiently shows their true intent:

"HOW LONG WILL YOU KEEP THE SOUTH OUT OF CONGRESS?—We answer: until that nest of traitors becomes fully satisfied that it never can again rule the nation by combination with Northern allies. Make the Southern leaders realize that fact, and the pacification of the formerly rebellious section of the country will be speedily accomplished, and its people will willingly acquiesce in any arrangement deemed necessary for the peace and harmony of the country by the loyal men who preserved the country from destruction. When the South relinquishes all hope of controlling national affairs, as it did in the days of Polk, Pierce, and Buchanan, the time will have arrived for investing Southern constituencies with the rights which they voluntarily forfeited. But, under no circumstances, can the traitorous portion of the Union be allowed to increase its political strength in Congress by the events of the war!"

Now, gentlemen, this doctrine—and it is the doctrine of Congress reduced to its last analysis; you and they all know it is; no one denies it—seems to me to strike at the root of the very trunk principle of our scheme of polity. If we are to abandon the plan of trusting the people to their own government, we surrender the very citadel of our system. If once we submit to allow majorities to assume not only that they are right and their opponents wrong, but that the opposite party is so wicked that the ruling faction must alter the fundamental law to ensure their permanent disgrace, we may as well abandon our central idea of self-government; and in its place bring in the other theory, on which rests the throne of our friend the Emperor of the French, that the people must be taken care of as incompetent or wicked. I have said that Congress seems willing to indefinitely postpone a restoration of the Union. If I were not anxious to be studiously moderate I should say that the most active and influential of its speakers and newspapers can fairly be interpreted as utterly opposed to any reunion at all. What else, I ask, can we conclude from the incessant stream of denunciation and abuse; the constant search of new matter of irritation; the perpetual recurrence to all the most bitter and humiliating memories of the war; the daily tearing open of old wounds; and twitting and sneering and taunting our conquered opponents with all things that may tend to exasperate their anger and perpetuate their hate? What can any mortal expect from such treatment but perpetual alienation? And what is the meaning of the condition which their official act imposes if not indefinite exclusion of some, at least, of the States? It is preposterous to presume that even Congress could suppose that all the formerly insurgent States would be weak or dishonest enough to be bribed back into precarious and inferior seats in the national councils.—For we must not forget that in assenting to the terms of Congress these States must acknowledge the constitutional authority of the process by which they return, and be content to sit at the good pleasure of a mere majority, and by the authority of a simple joint resolution of a Congress of part of the States, exercising a power which, to say the least, is not expressly granted by the Constitution. If any one even rejects the bribe, no alternative but permanent subjection is offered by Congress. I will not spend time in showing how entirely without sanction of anything to be found in the text of the Constitution is the arbitrary offer of conditional restoration contained in the Amendment and its enabling statute. Only to read them in the light of the tenth article of Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which says expressly that "the powers not delegated to the United States are reserved to the States respectively or to the people," would seem to be a sufficient negative of constitutional authority. But the legal bearings of this extraordinary proposition have been fully discussed by more than one of the ablest jurists of the time. Indeed, the candid and logical Republicans and their honest presses admit its divergence from the strict letter, but assert a certain pre-eminent concordance with the spirit of the Constitution, and they justify this lax construction by the old plea of necessity and a kind of indescribable reserved war right in the conqueror in civil war to disregard his own constitutional limitations. As to this plea of necessity, not to dwell on the patent reflection that no usurpation or constitutional overture ever occurred from the day Julius Cæsar crossed the Rubicon to the coup d' etat of Louis Napoleon, or the Committee of Fifteen of the last session of Congress, that did not strive to cover itself under the broad mantle of alleged necessity, I might well be content to simply deny the fact of the existence of such a necessity. But I will not detain you now to examine the evidence upon this head, or to analyze this strange claim of reserved rights and lurking war powers, potent to retain their force long after pence is declared, and which are nowhere even hinted at in the written word of our organic law, but will content myself, to-night, with asking merely what any reasonable man can fairly anticipate will result from the proposed process, supposing it is successfully perfected. Passing over the strange anomaly of recognizing these States, which we have ascertained by our committee to be too wicked to be permitted to vote upon the simplest matter of statute law, nay not even on questions of finance, where surely no human being, be he never so rebellious, could well give more foolish or dishonest votes than many of our Radical friends, as are still in the Union, and safely reliable, so far as to pass upon the gravest changes in our organic law, and that too under an open bribe:—allowing all this for the sake of the argument, what shall we gain by our move? Congress says we shall secure ourselves against another war, and take new guaranties for peace. But I confess I cannot see how. This idea seems to me only a part of the general theory so prevalent with us that a statute has some sovereign power to change the minds of men; the same theory which teaches that intemperance can be abolished by law.—Why, gentlemen, was there any lack of constitutional law against secession and rebellion, and did it prevent the great war? No piling of amendment upon amendment will prevent revolution and anarchy so long as the policy of the majority compels the minority to hate the organic law, and teaches by example the whole people to disregard or evade it." * * * * * * * *

"But it is said you will sacrifice all the results of the war, and abandon all we have gained and fought for. If this be so, we are surely wrong; but is it so? What did we fight for? President Lincoln said it was to reduce to obedience to the Constitution the rebellion in certain States, and that the restoration of the Union, either with or without slavery, was what he fought for. Nor was Congress less explicit, as the joint resolution passed July 1, 1861, will show:

Resolved, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States now in revolt against the Constitutional Government and in arms around the capital; that in this national emergency Congress, banishing all feeling of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not prosecuted upon our part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States; but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution and all laws made in pursuance thereof, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease.

There is what we fought for—to "maintain the supremacy of the Constitution," and "to preserve the Union." [Applause.] Shall we sacrifice this by ourselves, submitting to its supremacy, or do we not rather abandon what we have gained when we ourselves infringe its provisions? Why, gentlemen, slavery is abolished; secession is crushed; the Constitution is supreme—at the South—and all this we propose to maintain as well as you; we only ask further that the Constitution shall be supreme also at the North. It is further objected that we would let these States back with an unfairly augmented representation? I reply that I will first fulfil my constitutional obligations if the heavens fall; but that supremacy once established, I will go on with any party to insist upon a fair equalization for representation; and let me say, that I think no party could maintain itself for a moment at the North which should oppose an equitable and a Constitutional settlement of this question.

Tribute of Respect.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA,
DIALECTIC HALL, Sept. 14th. 1866.

The Hon. GEORGE E. BADGER, an Honorary member of the Dialectic Society for over fifty years, during which, by his natural endowments, liberal culture and manly virtues, he illustrated the fame of his native State as an advocate, a Judge, a Senator of the Union, a scholar, a patriot and a christian gentleman, having departed this life:

It is therefore Resolved, That the members of this Society, having received with sincere regret the intelligence of the death of Mr. BADGER, as a mark of distinguished respect to his memory the Chair of its President be draped in mourning for the term of thirty days.

And be it further Resolved, that a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and a copy filed in the Archives of the Society.

THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday Evening, Sept. 18, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—White, Falkener & Co., 106 Sycamore St., Petersburg, Wholesale Boot and Shoe Dealers, call attention to their well-selected stock. They offer great inducements to the trade.

See announcement of Lack & Peoples, Proprietors of the Planters' Hotel, in this city.

See notice to the Congregation of Christ Church, Raleigh.

J. P. H. Russ offers valuable city property for sale or rent.

Daniel C. Hardy, Littleton, offers $40 reward for a stolen horse.

THE HON. T. L. Clingman was in this City, on yesterday, en route for the North.

MILITARY.—Capt. Jacob F. Chur, V. R. C., is announced by Maj. Gen. Robinson as having been assigned to duty as A. A. A. G. on the staff of the Assistant Commissioner of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, etc., in this State.

A COINCIDENCE.—We met, on yesterday, one of our maimed heroes from the County of Rockingham, who had just arrived for the purpose of availing himself of the munificence of the State in providing limbs tor her mutilated soldiers. He lost his leg at Sharpsburg, on the 17th. of September, 1862, and on the fourth anniversary of his misfortune he comes to have it mitigated as far as human agency and science can effect it.

CHATHAM RAILROAD.—Committees of the Raleigh and Gaston, North Carolina, and Chatham Railroad Companies, met at the office of the former in this City, this morning, with a view to reviving the affairs of the latter,—a most desirable object, which we trust may be consummated. We hope to be able, to-morrow, to announce the result of their deliberations.

STOCKHOLDERS OF THE RALEIGH BAPTIST FEMALE SEMINARY.—A meeting of the Stockholders of the "Raleigh Baptist Female Seminary" will be held in the basement of the Baptist Church, in Raleigh, on Tuesday, the 25th. of Sept., at 10 o'clock, A. M. A large attendance is requested.

CONCERTS IN THE COMMONS HALL.—The Charlotte Democrat wishes to know how it is that the Commons Hall is used for Concerts, &c., who is responsible for it, and asserts that the people will be taxed for gas used and cleaning up. Our cotemporary is mistaken.

We are humiliated in making the acknowledgment, that there is not a decent place in the city, belonging to the corporation or to individuals, where a lecture on science, history, or literature can be delivered, or a concert or any other entertainment had. We have neither a Theatre, hall nor public building, where ladies will attend, except the Chapel of the Institution of the Deaf, Dumb, and the Blind, and the Halls of the Capitol. For years it has been a source of great annoyance to the officers of the Capitol, to get along pleasantly with the frequent applications made for the use of the Halls of the Capitol. The Directors of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum have experienced the same difficulty. Hence, years ago, the officers of the Capitol determined to refuse all applicants for the use of the Halls, except for meetings of general public or State utility, or for objects strictly benevolent. Even this limit has proved seriously embarrassing to them, yet they have felt obliged, owing to the condition of the city, to admit lectures, concerts, &c., for strictly benevolent purposes. Such were the exhibitions of the Harrell family and all others which have been admitted for some time. But, in all instances, the parties who use the Halls, bear the expense of lighting, cleaning up, &c., so the expense does not fall upon the State or the people. We are, however, gratified in being able to state, that these inconveniencies and perplexities will soon be obviated, upon the completion of the commodious TUCKER HALL, now in progress of erection.

CARTERET.—We are glad to see that Jno. M. Perry, Esq., has accepted the nomination for the House of Commons in this County. We have been favored with a copy of his circular to the voters of the County, in which he takes strong ground in favor of the President's policy.

A GOOD GUESS.—The Public Treasurer estimated, last winter, that the recent session of the Convention would cost $30,000. The session actually cost $30,486.

THE FIRST BALE of new Cotton was received in Petersburg, from North Carolina, on Friday last. It was raised by the gallant Col. Wm. H. Cheek, (late of the 1st North Carolina Cavalry) of Warren County, who realizes the handsome price of 40 cents per pound for it, (weight 365 lbs.) and a premium of FIFTY DOLLARS.

EDGECOMBE.—The Fall term of the Superior Court for this County was in session last week. The Southerner speaks in high terms of the acceptable manner in which Judge Merrimon presided. It adds that "there were two important criminal cases where crimes of a high degree were charged, but the only feature that was developed in either, was the total unfitness of negro testimony in Courts of Justice."

BUNCOMBE ITEMS.—The young ladies of Ashville are giving a series of tableaux for the benefit of the Winchester Cemetery Association.

The Buncombe Bible Society has been revived. Rev. J. S. Kennedy is President for the ensuing year.

Hon. Z. B. Vance has been in Ashville, recently, and was doubtless warmly received by his many old friends.

THE NEWBERN CONFLAGRATION.—We are pained to see that the Commercial estimates the loss to our sister city, by the recent terrible conflagration, at $300,000. It is an aggravation of the misfortune, that our people in other portions of the State and the South are powerless to extend to the sufferers that pecuniary relief which, under other circumstances, they would so gladly bestow. We glean from the Commercial the following additional particulars of the fire:

Four squares of the business centre, the very heart of our beautiful city, are a broad expanse of smoking ruins.

That this devilish deed, was the work of an incendiary or incendiaries, admits of no question. At the request of the City Council, His Honor Mayor Washington has offered a reward of $1,500 for the arrest and conviction of such party or parties, and has called a meeting of the citizens of Newbern, at the Theatre to-day at 11 o'clock, A. M., to take such measures as may be thought advisable for the relief of the sufferers by the appaling disaster. The church yard of Christ Church, (Episcopal,) was blocked up at day-light this morning, by the houseless, and rescued property. * * *

We noticed innumerable instances of daring courage and bravery on the part of our firemen and citizens, but where all achieved so much, it would be invidious to particularize. We append a list of the losses of the principal sufferers, as far as we are able to ascertain, up to the time of going to press. The total amount will not fall short of $300,000.

C. A. Nelson—Furniture Store. Loss, $7,000 insured for $3,000.

J. S. Stevenson & Bro.—two buildings, Dry Goods Stores. Loss, $20,000.

Sarah Oxley—Grocery store. Loss, $5,000. No insurance.

A. G. Hubbard—Attorney at Law. Loss, $3,000. Insured $3,000.

Dr. Boyd's Property—Loss $2,000.

Louis Webb—House and office. Loss $3,000.

Mrs. H. C. Jones—Building. Loss, $1,000.

Robert Green—Barber. Loss,$1,000.

John Good—Barber. Loss, $7,50.

Capt. Mowers—Livery Stable. Saved most all his stock. Loss $1,000.

S. Bangert—Loss, $3,000. Insured $2,000.

Wm. Kellett—Tin Ware Manufacturers Loss, $2,000. Saved but little of his stock.

Max Asher—Dry Goods. Loss, $500. Stock nearly all savad.

The Private buildings on Pollok between Hancock and Middle, were destroyed. The total loss is about $15,000. The residenes of S. Tuttle and Milton Coles, Esq., were badly scorched and in great peril, as also the dwelling of C. C. Clarke, Esq.

THE MURDER IN WILKES.—Seldom have we heard of a more cold blooded murder than the killing of Dent by Higgins, for whose apprehension a reward of $300 has been offered by Governor Worth. It is stated that Dent found Higgins' dog destroying his corn, and in company with a friend, went to inform Higgins of the circumstance; at which Higgins became offended, and ordered Dent to leave the premises, which was the property of another party where Higgins was staying. Dent and his friend turned to depart, when Higgins struck Dent with a hoe on top of his head, killing him instantly.—Dent, during the war, was a Southern sympathiser, while Higgins was a deserter and bushwhacker—being a person of a notoriously bad character generally.—Statesville American.

The President's Reception at Washington.

A vast concourse of persons awaited for hours the President's arrival at the railroad depot. He was escorted to the City Hall, and subsequently to the White House, notwithstanding it was long after nightfall. The procession, which marched up the avenue, was very large, consisting of the military, Marine Corps, Mayor and Common Council, departmental and civil bodies. The demonstration was very imposing and the President was greeted with great cheering by the thousands that thronged Pennsylvania avenue.

After arriving at the White House the President addressed the crowd as follows: "Fellow citizens, for the demonstration you tender me upon my arrival home to assume the discharge of my official duties, you will please accept my heartfelt thanks. Such a welcome from the people who have been the daily eye-witnesses of the manner in which I have discharged my duties is peculiarly gratifying. All I can promise you for the future is, that it will be a continuance of my conduct in the past. I have tried to discharge my official duties in compliance with the Constitution, and the principles which I deemed to be right. I will add that the sentiment which you exhibit to-night is not peculiar to yourselves, but that which pervades the country. Wherever I have been my opinion is that the expression which has gone abroad the country with regard to sustaining a government of constitutional law is unmistakable and not to be misunderstood.

I believe the day is not far distant when the judgment of the American people will be made manifest that this Union must be restored—that peace and prosperity and harmony must again prevail throughout the United States. I believe I can safely testify that the great portion of your fellow-citizens that I visited—and I have seen millions of them since I left you—will accord with me in sustaining the principle of free government in compliance with the Constitution of the country. Permit me, in retiring this evening, to again tender you—a people whom I have known long, and in whose midst I have served in various official capacities and now serve in that of Chief Magistrate—my heartfelt thanks for this cordial welcome, which shall be remembered by me while there is a pulsation of my heart."

Cheer after cheer was given as he bowed and entered the mansion.

Among the passengers who arrived at New York, on Wednesday, from Europe by the steamer Fulton, is the Hon. W. Napier, brother of Lord Napier, late British Minister to the United States. He intends to settle permanently in he United States as a farmer.

Our Tuesday Morning Dispatches.

Congratulations to the President,—Mr. Seward's Health, &c., &c.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17, P. M.

The heads of the bureaus of the Treasury department called in a body upon the President to tender him their respects and congratulations upon his safe return from his Western tour.

Secretary Seward is easier but not entirely out of danger. His disease was genuine cholera, and is believed to have been contracted in St. Louis.

The Secretary of the Treasury anticipates there will be seventy five millions of gold in the Treasury by the 1st of October, exclusive of certificates.

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 17.

The mail steamer from Rio Janeiro brings the important intelligence that the allies have been badly defeated by the Paraguayans.

BERLIN, Sept. 16.

It is announced that Prussia will not allow the king of Saxony to take part in the North Germany confederation.

FLORENCE, Sept. 16.

Advices from Prussia say a difficulty in the way of signing the treaty of peace between Austria and Italy has been raised by Austria, in relation to the debt of Venitia. The position taken by Austria placed the execution of the treaty of peace signed at Bologne in great doubt. The Vienna Conference has been adjourned for a few weeks.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 17.

Cotton market active; prices advanced quarter penny: sales to-day 20,000 bales middling uplands at 13¼d; breadstuffs flat and declining tendency.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

Gen. Baird Relieved.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18, M.

Gen. Baird has been formally relieved from the command of the Department of the Gulf and assigned to duty in the department of the Lakes, and ordered to report to Gen. Hooker.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention,—A Great Success.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention organized on yesterday,—Gen. Wool temporary Chairman.

In the course of his remarks, he said that the sooner Congress admitted Southern representation the sooner will be allayed the apprehensions of the people of the dangers which menace the country and the perpetuity of the Union. He said that the purpose of the Radicals was to plunge the country again into civil war. He said, it would not be confined to the South, but extend over the North, and only close with the overthrow of Republican government. He said that President Johnson was a patriot, and that the brave are always merciful and generous. With the President, he, too, said: "We have had war enough,—let us have Peace!"

These sentiments were received with great enthusiasm.

The Convention is largely attended,—three or four thousand delegates being present.

The pavilion, yesterday, was crowded to its utmost, and the proceedings were most harmonious.

Latest Markets and Financial. &c.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 17.

Cotton firm. Sales of 1,350 bales middling at 33@34.

Gold $1,45½. Sterling 50. New York exchange ½ premium.

Accounts from the Cotton region continue to be altogether unfavorable.

Cholera still raging on the plantations in the interior.

Gen. Grant was called on at Indianapolis to make a speech to the crowd that had just refused to hear the President, Secretary Seward, and other distinguished gentlemen. He appeared on the balcony—a silence like death fell on the vast concourse. He said:

"Gentlemen! I am ashamed of you! Go home and be ashamed of yourselves."

AN ACCOMPLISHED CANDIDATE.—It is announced in the New York World that on the occasion of the monster mass meeting to be held in that city to ratify the action of the Conservative Convention, Hon. JOHN T. HOFFMAN will address the people from every stand during the evening, and will also address in the German language "the acres of Germans" who are expected to be present.

The New York Herald does not throw itself entirely into the arms of the Radicals. It seeks to compromise the breach between them and the President; but predicts the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by all the Northern States.

CHOLERA IN NORFOLK.—The Norfolk Virginian says "it is not to be denied that the Asiatic cholera, as an epidemic, has appeared in the suburbs of Norfolk."

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhœa Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

A VALUBALE COTTON FARM FOR RENT OR LEASE,

FOR A TERM OF YEARS.—The subscriber wishes to lease for a term of years his plantation near Marlboro, Pitt County.

The farm contains about

400 ACRES

of improved land, well adapted to the growth of cotton and corn. The facilities for composting or manuring are greater than ordinary.

Vegetable mould, or peat, well rotted, lies in a branch for near a mile in length on one side of the field, overlying marl of superior richness. This marl contains, by analysis, with other fertilizing constituents, 6 pr. ct. of Coprolyte, or Phosphate of Lime.

There are ample buildings for dwelling and every needful purpose, on the place.

To the farmers of the middle counties, industrious, working, practical men, who wish to repair their fortunes by cotton planting, this place offers rare inducements. To such men, if without capital, I could give aid the first year, by furnishing stock, provisions &c., to be paid for out of the crop, if desired.

As none but industrious, working men can make cotton successfully, none but those who come well recommended as such need apply.

NEWBERN COTTON EXCHANGE.

NEWBERN, N. C., SEPTEMBER, 10th. 1866.

I Have made arrangements which will enable me to advance in Cash, to any extent, on the present crop of Cotton, on very fair and liberal terms to the Planters. I propose to keep an open policy of Insurance to cover Cotton by insurance as soon as it is dedelivered at the Railroad Depot, provided the owners will notify me they wish it. I would particularly call the attention of my customers to the importance of having their Cotton In Good Shipping Order.

I would also advise them to keep separate, as far as possible, the different grades, and to distinctly mark each bale with their name or initials; also, to send me immediately after delivering it at the Depot, the Railroad Agent's receipt for it. I will on all Cotton, whether it is to be sold in Newbern or to be shipped.

MAKE LIBERAL CASH ADVANCES

I have made every arrangement to sell or ship Cotton to the very best advantage, and assure my customers that everything shall be done to advance their interest.

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following:

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Geerick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonals

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Bookkeeping; Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unsurpassed facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

HILLSBOROUGH MILITARY ACADEMY.

The exercises of this well known institution, founded by the late Col. C. C. Few, will be resumed on the 1st. day of October next, under the direction of Gen. R E COLSTON, a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a Professor of the Va., Military Institute.

The course of instruction will be such as to make the Academy a great a school of theoretical and applied science—in which languages and literature will also receive a full share of attention. The discipline and instruction will be upon a complete military basis.

Gen'l. Colston's long experience and extensive acquaintance enable him to assure the public, that he will secure the services of Professors of distinguished ability as the wants of the school require them, and he confidently relies upon the liberal patronage of his old friends and compasions in arms, throughout N. C. and the whole South.

Applications for admission must be made as early as practicable, to the Superintendent, and accompanied by testimonials of good moral character. Circulars containing full information will be issued in a few days. For these, and all further particulars, apply to GEN R. E. COLSTON, Superintendent Hillsborough Military Academy, Hillsborough N. C.
